

Shane Van Hoesen Selected for Prestigious Presidential Management Fellowship

Shane Van Hoesen, a 2008 MPA Graduate, was recently selected as a finalist for the Presidential Management Fellows Program and subsequently offered a position with the Drug Enforcement Administration in Washington, DC. Shane will be working as a Program Analyst within the DEA's Office of Resource Management beginning in August. UConn DPP professor Bill Simonsen commented, "The UConn Department of Public Policy is very proud of Shane's accomplishment and we are confident that he will be very successful working for the federal government."

The Presidential Management Fellows (PMF) program offers an opportunity for recent graduate students to participate in a two year fellowship in a United States government agency. Selection for this two year paid government fellowship is overseen by the Office of Personnel Management and begins with the nomination of the student by the school followed by a rigorous assessment process.
